Education • Networking • Information

Membership databases, legislative services, convention planning, membership involvement, technology...your work in association management demands your attention, savvy and expertise on these topics and many more. You have questions. The Oklahoma Society of Association Executives has the answers.

No other organization in the state serves Oklahoma's association profession better. From educational seminars, networking, and simply building relationships with others who do what you do, an OSAE membership will enhance your career. For more than 40 years, OSAE has built its reputation as the association for associations.

Membership Categories

Regular Members are professional involved in the management, governance and operations of member driven associations and Chambers of Commerce. Associations include trade associations, professional societies, foundations and other not-for-profit organizations.

Affiliate Members are those who represent a firm or organization offering products or services to Regular Members. Affiliates meet everyday association need including banking and printing, as well as offering meeting and event services and legislative and media expertise.

*"My involvement with OSAE provides me with the network of friends I need when looking for that 'right' person or place that will make the difference."
Sam Wade, Deputy CEO, National Rural Water Association and 2005 OSAE President.*

"OSAE helped me attain my goal of becoming a CAE (Certified Association Executive)," Jane Nelson, CAE, Oklahoma Nurses Association, pictured right with Greta Shepherd Stewart, CAE, Oklahoma Primary Care Association and liason to the ASAE Diversity Executive Leadership Program.
